REDWOOD, CORNER COTTAGE STREET, Newport, R. 1.

Published every Morning--Sundays GEORGE T. RAMMOND, At 123 Thames Street:

FRIDAY, NOV. 12, 1858.

The new Custom House at Pensacola The new custom stouse at Pensacola, Florida; has just been completed. The cost was $80,000. The amount of revenue collected at that port, for 1857, was $418, cosping to collect it, $3,012.

The collection of revenue, at the port of Pensacola is, perhaps, a profitable speculation-but scurcely for the people of the United States, if the above figures are to be relied on. At the rate of collection for last year, it would take between six and seven years' proceeds of the custom house to pay one year's expenses; while it would require the total collections of above one hundred and twenty years to pay the cost of creeting the new custom house aforesaid.

Now, is there in the nature of things, any necessity for these extensive and wholly disprojectionate arrangements to secure that pultry sum of $178 to the U. S. Treasury from the port of Pensacola? Who is going to believe it? The office could doubtless he farmed out to an individual, who, acting strictly within legal limits would collect all the revenue that properly accrues at that insignificant port, and take the protects for his compensation :-- if not, how much better it would be to abolish its designation as a part of entry, than to have the people subjected to the present shameful imposition practised there!

On what possible grounds of reason and common sense should the handsome sum of Sixty Thousand Dollars have been squandered at Pensacela for a custom house, under the circumstances already detailed, It was voted, we suppose, by members of Congress, on the log-rolling principle which binds members from one section of the country to vote appropriations for another section, on condition that the members from this latter section shall do the same good turnelly them, when any handsome money question arises in their favor. The question as to the propriety or necessity of the appropriations is another matter altogether.

But were the members of Congress, or were they not, at the time of voting this Sixty Thousand dollar appropriation for Pensacola, aware of the frivolous and insignificant amount of federal revenue gathered al that point? We do not know, But we know they ought to have been, and would have been, had they been at all fitted for the proper discharge of their responsible duties. And then, is it not clear that they could not, without a gross and criminal disregard of the people's rights, vote away any such sum for any such purpose?

But, perhaps Pensacola will take a start, one of these days, and grow up rapidly into n vast commercial city; and possibly it might have been some prophetic vision of this sort that actuated our patriotic Congressmen in providing her with a stately custom house! Yes, possibly.-But the history of her past does not augur favorably as to her rapid growth in future; and we are great's afraid the interest of the sum paid for her custom house will totally eclipse the principal before the day-dawn of her greatness and prosperity.

In-day is the time set for the execution, in New York, of young Regers convicted, some time since, of the murder of Mr. Swanton, who was passing in the street with his wife. The murder was without provocation, and apparently without matire, except mere wantonness, as Swanton was unknown to Regers, who was on a drunken frolic. The murder was done with a buile. Strong efforts are being made for a commutation of the sentence-Rogers is a mere boy, being only about 17 ars of are when the murder was commit, €ď.

THE QUARANTINE RIOTS .- The Commis sioners of Emigration of the State of New York, have commenced suit against the supervisors of Richmond County, to recover the value of the property belonging to the State, recently destroyed by the rioters at Staten Island. The plaintiffs demand judgment for $253,750, under the act to provide for compensating parties whose properry may be destroyed in consequence of mobil or riote.

The parties in Baltimore concerned in the munice of police officer Rigdon, have been arrested and imprisoned, and there is a prospect of their being brought to justice, if men can be found with pluck; enough to testify against them in face of what has already occurred.

Two brothers, named Gillen, residing in New York, had an altercation Monday night of the control times were an respick. The wounds will probably prove fatal.

LOCAL NEWS. A "Hash" of Locals.

In absence of any local intelligence of general importance, we present to our readers, to-day, in a " hash," such as we have some one thing, and some another.

First end foremost, we may congratulate the citizens on the prospect of the sidewalk on the west tide of Thames Street, where it crosses the heads of the whatver, being rendered pressable in wet weather. We notice that Mr. Cuit, the Street Commissioner, has made a commencement, at the head of Peckhan & Bull's Wharf, where he is laying a substantial crossing, and doubtless intends to follow up the street till he has mended all the had places. The company that was being formed for a ferry to cross the head of Swinburne's wharf, may therefore dishand and sell their boats, as they will not be needed.

We understand there was a delegation of New Yorkers at the Aquidner's House Wednesday,membering about 40 persons. Who they were and what was their business is we cannot learn that any one succeeded in finding out. They had probably been enticed here by the fame of Col. Rider's excellent

We understand a veteran hotel keeper of New York has been negotiating for the purchase of the Ocean House in this city.

There are four cargoes of lumber discharging at our wharves, and several eargoes of coal.

We learn that a lady met with a severe accident, yesterday, in attempting to pass the natrow portals of one of our day goods stores. Several bones were broken; but as they happened to be while-bones, the services of a dress-maker, instead of a physician, were called into requisition. The "hones" have been "set," and the lady will be on the street again soon. An action for damages against the store-kusper is talked of. Sheriff Lake will be retained for the lady.

We notice that workmen are engaged on the back "Gem," at Perry Mill Wharf, putting up new spars and rigging and repairing her hull. The Gem is a new vessel, owned by John D. Northom, Esq., of this city. She was wrecked two years ago, on Block Island, and was not off and brought to this city by extraordinary exertions on the part of her owner, where she has been laid up ever since, her seams opening in the sun. She is said to be an extraordinary fast sailing vessel and well built in every particular, and we are glad to see that the is being again made ship-shape.

The two vessels on the stocks at Crandall's and Cattrell's ship-yands, are progressing at about the same rate of speed as did Noah's Ark, and will doubtless, from present appearances, he completed within about the same period of time. The keepjug them there, however, is not a bad idea, as strangers passing through the harbor and sceing them there, will gather the idea that Newport is something of a ship-building place. In the present condition of freights they could not probably do much any where else.

We would say, in conclusion, to delinquents, that the News office has been treated to a new safe of large dimensions, in anticipation of heavy receipts of money due

We learn from the agent of the Steamer Governor, that the will again resume her trips between New York and Providence on Monday next, on which day she will leave New York at 4 o'clock P. M.

They sustained themselves in the water till they were rescued by the crew of a fishing smack that hap_ pened to be near, and brought to this city. The two men were nearly exhausted when taken from the water. The boat was lost

Offer to Restore the Atlantic Telegraph.

Professor Whitehouse, an English electrician, who, it will be remembered, was engaged for some days after the submersion of the cable in experimenting with the electrical instruments and was subsequently dismissed by the Directors, now comes forward, when the hopes of all others have sunk, with an offer to restore the telegraph. He says:

As one of the projectors, upon the faith of whose representations a large portion of the original capital was subscribed; as a late officer, whose position afforded him the very hest opportunities of gaining experience, which may now be of value to the interests of the commons and as one whose the very best opportunities of gaining experience, which may now be of value to the interests of the company, and as one whose opinion may thus have some weight, even though diametrically opposite to that adopted and published by the Board, I feel that I am entitled, nay called upon, to offer my services at the present inneture.

POETRY WHITTLED DOWN, -- I'm think ing of the time Kate, when, sitting by thy sale and picking beaus, I gazed on thee, and feltor peacock's pride. In stence leaned weo'er the pan, and neither spake a word; but the rattling of the beans, Kute, was all the sound we heard. Thy auburn curls hing dawn, Kate, and kissed thy lily cheek; and thy azure eyes, half filled with tears, bespoke a spirit meek. To be so charmed, at I was then, had ne'er before occurred, when the rattling of the beans, Kate, was all the sound we heard. I thought it was not wrong, Kate, so, leaning o'er the dish, as you snatched up a lot of beaus, I snatched a noctaved size a guiden than the snatched a nectared kiss ; a sudden shower made blind my eyes, I neither saw nor stirred, but the rattling of the beans Kate, was all the sound I heard.

and from the most intelligent to prove their it is a perfect Restorative;" but read the circular and you cannot doubt; read also the following:—

(I) Fur. HAIR.—People have for centuries been affire "with bald heads, and the only remedy, I stetofore known, has been those abmainable wigs. By a recent discovery of Professor Wood these articles are being fast dispensed with, but a great many persons at II patronize them, because they have been so often imposed upon by Hair Tonics of different kinds. To all such persons we carnestly make the request; that they will try nuce again, for in Wood's Restorative there is no such thing as fail. We know of a lady who was bald, who used the article a short time, and her healls now covered completely with the timest and most beautiful curly imagin the interior and most beautiful curly imagin the profession than it ever had been before. It is alrow without doubt one of the beat ticles for keeping the hair in good condition making it saft and glossy, removing dundrand has proved itself the greatest enemy to the life that hair is heir to.

It is the duty of every one to Improve their or sound appearance, though some may differ in regard to the ways of doing it; but every one will admit that a beautiful head of that, either in man or woman, is an object much to be desired, and there are no means that should be left unttied to obtain such a consideration.—[Woman's Advocate, Philadelphia.]
